

Labrador Retriever Club of Greater Boston

Dear Prospective Member,

Thank you for taking an interest in our club.

The Labrador Retriever Club of Greater Boston (LRCGB) is a community of dog lovers who care about the promotion and protection of one of the most popular breeds in the American Kennel Club: the Labrador Retriever. Our non-profit organization was founded and licensed by the AKC in 1974 by a group of Labrador fanciers. We're scattered from Maine to New York, and we breed, show, hunt, perform therapy work, compete in obedience, tracking, agility, dock diving, rally, fetch, nose work, and field; but mostly we just enjoy our Labradors as family pets. Many of our members take their dogs to nursing homes, schools, and hospitals to make someone's day a bit brighter.

We encourage members, guests, and anyone curious about our versatile Labradors to come to the volunteer-run meetings, activities, and events we host all year 'round. Many of our members have been involved with Labradors for years and love to talk "dog" and share their knowledge with newcomers. Visit our website (lrcgb.org) for up-to-date information on events as well as their locations. Please come and experience our community in action.

The LRCGB currently offers Full or Associate Membership options for newcomers to the club. Members who opt for Full Membership complete a modest work requirement – which assists our volunteer-run organization to have the richest experiences. Full Membership perks include voting rights as well as web listing privileges for breeders. Associate Members are included in all membership communications and get member privileges at most events.

Regardless of membership level, the applicant must be approved by our membership. Applications are presented as First Readings at the next general club meeting. If a meeting is not scheduled within 60 days, the application may be shared with the membership via the clubs broadcast email service. At the next club meeting the application will be voted upon. At any point in the application process a member of the Membership Committee or Board may contact you to learn a bit more about you.

Once accepted, applicants will receive a formal notification, along with a new-member packet – which includes, among other things: our Constitution and By-Laws, Standing Rules of the club and information on our modest work requirements for full members.
