

Labrador Retriever Club of Greater Boston

Dear Prospective Member,

Thanks for taking an interest in our club.

The Labrador Retriever Club of Greater Boston (LRCGB) is a community of dog lovers who care about the promotion and protection of the #1 Most Popular Breed in the American Kennel Club: the Labrador Retriever. Our non-profit organization was founded and licensed by the AKC in 1974 by a group of Labrador fanciers – many of whom are still members today. We’re scattered from Maine to New York and we breed, show, hunt, do therapy work, compete in obedience, tracking, agility, and field -- and mostly just enjoy our Labradors as family pets. Many of our members take our dogs to nursing homes, schools and hospitals to make someone’s day a bit brighter. We also support the non-profit Labrador Retriever Rescue, Inc. with funds and manpower.

We encourage members, guests and anyone curious about our versatile Labradors to come to the volunteer-run meetings, activities and events we host all year ‘round. So many of our members have been involved with Labradors for years and years, and love to talk dog and share their knowledge with newcomers. Please check our website (lrcgb.org) for up-to-date information on activities, topics, dates and locations – come and experience our community in action.

The LRCGB currently offers Full or Associate Membership options for newcomers to the club. Members who opt for Full Membership complete a modest work requirement – which helps our volunteer-run organization run, and have the richest experiences. Associate Members are included in all membership communications and get member privileges to most events; the work requirement is encouraged but not expected.

Regardless of membership level, the applicant must be approved by our membership. Applications are presented as First Readings to the membership at the very next club meeting, and Second Readings are voted on at the following meeting. Once accepted, applicants will receive a formal notification along with a new-member packet – which includes, among other things, our Constitution and By-Laws and Working Rules and Policies of the club.
